

The Department of Human Ecology's "Governance in the Anthropocene" Speaker Series co-sponsored with the Rutgers Climate Institute presents:

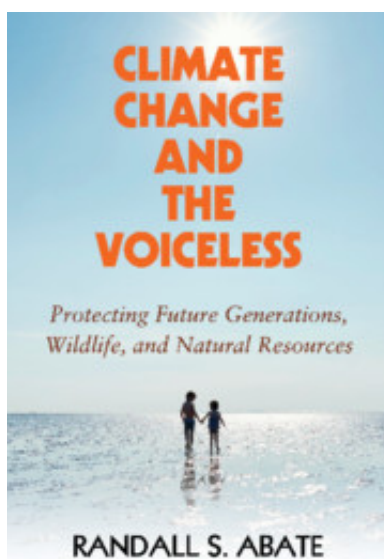

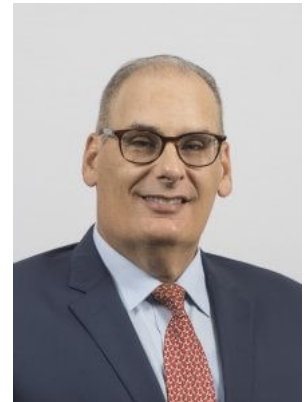

Climate Change and the Voiceless

Wednesday, September 18, 2019
12:30 PM

Institute of Food, Nutrition and Health Room 101
61 Dudley Road, New Brunswick, NJ

Professor Randall S. Abate

Endowed Chair in Marine and
Environmental Law and Policy,
Monmouth University

How law can protect the interests of the voiceless – future generations, wildlife, and natural resources – more effectively from the impacts of global climate change.

RUTGERS
THE STATE UNIVERSITY
OF NEW JERSEY